Assistance Funds Transfer Held Legal

District Judge Ankeny Upholds $1,137,257 Switch General Fund

The legality of transferring more than $1,137,257 from the state assistance fund to the general fund was upheld by District Judge Harry Ankeny in a decision filed Saturday in a case testing the transfer's constitutionality.

Judge Ankeny held that the statute was not intended by the legislature as an appropriation, and that the fund thereby set up must be considered only temporary and not a special or trust fund, nor must it be considered as a continuing appropriation.

Sought Fund Restoration.

In the test case, Clifford L. Rein, on behalf of himself and other persons similarly situated, filed suit against Ray C. Johnson, state auditor, and Edward Gillette, state treasurer, asking that the defendants be enjoined from paying out any of the transferred money for any purpose other than state assistance until lawfully appropriated, and that the money be restored to the state assistance fund.

In a lengthy opinion acompanying the decision, Judge Ankeny declared:

"That the legislature did not intend it as an appropriation of the fund is plain from the fact that the legislature enacted an appropriation measure by which it expressly and specifically appropriated this particular fund."

Interprets Statute.

The decisive factor in the case is the proper interpretation of the statute setting up the state assistance fund, Judge Ankeny declared.

The plaintiff's argument in the petition which was filed July 23, 1945, contended that the original statute created a "continuing appropriation," and that the fund actually constituted a trust fund which is beyond the control of the legislature.

Judge Ankeny pointed out in his opinion that the state assistance fund was adopted Nov. 26, 1935, in a special session of the legislature, and that the statute was then re-enacted by each legislative session for 1935, 1937, 1939, 1941, 1943 and 1945.

Legislative Policy.

"Its creative status and the appropriation act re-enacted each two years show a determined legislative policy from which it ap-

Auto Prices Revert

OPA Car Ceilings Drop Temporarily; Cost Of Clothing To Increase

WASHINGTON—(AP) — OPA announced Saturday that new automobiles are back under June 30 ceilings pending issuance of a higher price schedule. Used car ceilings are down four per cent from the June 30 level.

OPA Administrator Paul A. Porter warned in an address that clothing and some other prices will move upward but he expressed belief the new OPA revival bill will prevent a runaway inflation.

Other officials forecast a clothings, the OPA announcement said while the agency worked on new price orders under its authority restored when President Truman signed the bill July 25.

Autos Up $100

In reimposing automobile ceilings, the OP Aannouncement said all deliveries of new and used cars after July 25 must conform to ceiling prices "even in cases where the buyer agreed during the interim, when price controls were off, to pay in excess of the ceiling and made a down payment."

Ceilings of used cars were dropped 4 per cent as of July 1, a reduction which became effective automatically with the OPA revival act. This was the regular semi-annual reduction to take account of depreciation.

The forthcoming ceilings on new cars—which some officials say will approximate $100 on popular price models—are based on a requirement of the new law

Night Watchman Breaks Hip In Fall

Adolph Fleischauer, 62, of 1545 North Twenty-first street, was in good condition in Bryan Memorial hospital Saturday with a fractured left hip which he suffered in a fall at Union airport Thursday night.

A night watchman, Fleischauer was making his rounds when he fell on a flight of steps. Not realizing that any bones had been broken, he remained at home until Saturday when he was taken to the hospital.

'INFLUENCE' CASE PROBED

..In War Profits Inquiry

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said Saturday the senate war investigating committee is investigating the reported effort of a Detroit firm to get a war contract through an individual in Washington who allegedly claimed he had "influence."

The senator, a member of the committee, declined to name the firm involved.

He told reporters, however, "if there's anybody in my state that was in on these deals I want it exposed just the same as anybody else, and it doesn't make any difference what his politics were or are."

Ferguson said he could not give details of the report until investigators had completed their inquiry into the case.

Earlier, another committee member, who declined the use of his name, told of a report that a Washington individual had not made good on getting a contract after receiving payment to do so.

STEWART W. SMITH

Smith To Head New St. Louis County System

Lincoln Librarian Resigning; To Start Extension Service

Learning Saturday morning of his appointment to the library system of St. Louis county, Missouri, Stewart W. Smith, for two years head of the Lincoln public libraries, has informed the library board that he is resigning to assume his new duties about Oct. 15.

"Starting From Scratch."

Smith will head a newly-organized library system which will serve areas of St. Louis county not now having libraries. Stating that he will have to "start from scratch" in development of the system, Smith said that it will cover parts of the county outside the city and suburb limits of St. Louis and at present has "absolutely nothing" in the way of buildings, materials, or personnel. Headquarters will be in Normandy, Mo.

The board of trustees of the county only recently voted to extend library service to outlying districts and his appointment is the first step in the process.

Introduced "Firsts" Here.

During his service in Lincoln, Smith has been responsible for the institution of several "firsts" in the field of library service. Two of these features are the "booketeria" system of installing loan libraries in retail stores, and the children's motion picture project. Also introduced was the Organized Friends of the Library society. Physical changes in the main library were made with its arrangement into three departments and installation of an auditorium in the basement.

Before coming to Lincoln in June, 1944, to succeed Magnus Kristoffersen. Smith had been doing research and writing for the American Library association. He was connected with the Milwaukee public library from July, 1929, until June, 1940, starting as general assistant and becoming head of the social sciences department in 1931. In July, 1940, he became librarian at Fitchburg, Mass.

Appreciates Co-operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their two children will move to Missouri when accommodations are available. Mr. Smith said Saturday that he is extremely sorry to leave Lincoln and that he appreciated the harmony and co-operation shown him by the board and library staff.

Walter W. White, president of the Lincoln Library board, expressing regret at the loss of Mr. Smith, stated that under Smith's direction many changes and innovations have been made in the Lincoln library system to give improved and more convenient service to the public.

"Members of the library board are most appreciative of the co-operative spirit Mr. Smith has shown in connection with all library activities and particularly in connection with the welfare of the libraries' personnel," Mr. White said.

NORFOLK, Neb.—(AP)—Ed C. Smith, 47, Chambers, was brought to a Norfolk hospital Friday night after he had suffered two broken vertebra in a fall from a haystack on which he was working. His condition at noon Saturday was satisfactory.

Generator, Switchboard Bugs Blamed For City Light Cutoff

. . . Water Also Off For 20 Minutes

City light department customers were without lights and water for about 20 minutes Friday night when trouble developing in generators at the city electric plant brought on switchboard trouble, so that the electric supply to light lines and the pumps which keep the city supplied with water was cut off.

Fred Blumer, plant superintendent, explained Saturday the trouble was due to cross currents which developed in two generators, after one had been turned on to supplement the electric flow from one which was already running.

Current Oscillates.

The trouble was not, as previously reported, due to improper synchronization of the generators before the second one was turned on, Blumer said. "The cross current in the generators, which was possibly due to the adjustment of field rheostats, caused an oscillation of current from one generator to the other," Blumer explained.

"During the oscillation of the current, a fuse was blown in a small control circuit, which froze the switchboard."

No equipment was damaged and no men were injured during the power cutoff, Blumer said.

Service Quickly Restored.

Electric service was restored in 15 or 20 minutes after the trouble developed, according to City Engineer D. L. Erickson. Water service, Erickson said, was restored even before electricity was turned on, as a steam-operated water pump, used for standby purposes, was pressed into service.

Police and fire station officials reported Friday evening that their lights and water failed at 7:28 and were off from 20 to 25 minutes. No fire calls were reported during this time, and the police stated that their radio was operated on an emergency light unit.

Persons being served by the city's light and water plant swamped the downtown service office and newspaper offices with hundreds of calls. A number of additional calls were reported received by the telephone company.

Only one of the city's four main hospitals reported that it was without lights during the cutoff Friday evening.

A check of the Consumers Public Power district revealed that there was "no general trouble" on its lines. They reported receiving a number of calls from city light users who just weren't sure which light service they used.

Chicago Youth Tells Story Of Three Killings To Parents

WM. HEIRENS WILL CONFESS TUESDAY

Attorneys Work For Life Sentence

Boy Admits To Father And Mother That He Killed Little Suzanne Degnan, Former Wave Frances Brown And Mrs. Josephine Ross

By JACK VINCENT.

CHICAGO—(INS)—Attorneys for William Heirens, 17-year-old college boy and one-man crime wave, announced Saturday that the youth would confess to three murders next Tuesday..

Heirens, according to a formal statement issued by the attorneys, will admit the kidnap-murder of 6-year-old Suzanne Degnan, the "lipstick murder" of ex-Wave Frances Brown and the robbery killing of Mrs. Josephine Ross.

In what was probably the most amazing development of all in the astounding case of the 17-year-old college boy, the attorneys, John and Mal Coghlan, said that Heirens, who killed without mercy, would throw himself on the mercy of the state.

Dictates Statement.

It was revealed, at the same time, that Heirens already had dictated an "abstract statement of fact' 'admitting the three crimes.

Heirens, University of Chicago student by day and ruthless prowler and killer by night, also will admit, it was reported, that he committed a long series of burglaries and assaults.

Heirens' so-called abstract statement of fact that he was a murderer was made before his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Heirens.

After Heirens dictated it Friday, his attorneys followed through with the statement given Saturday:

Decide On Confession.

"After three weeks of investigation and study, we have decided to allow Heirens to make a confession before Mr. Tuohy."

The statement referred to State's Attorney William Tuohy, who already has secured 31 grand jury indictments charging Heirens with two murders and 29 burglaries and assaults.

The statement of the attorneys then continued:

"Heirens has made an abstract statement of fact in the three murders."

Girl And Two Women.

The murders referred to were those of little Suzanne, the ex-Wave, and Mrs. Ross, the latter a widow. All of the killings followed a blood pattern where bodies of the victims were cleansed and carefully wiped up.

In their statement, the attorneys also said:

"He (Heirens) is willing to confess and has shown his willingness to do so before the state's attorney.

"The manner in which the confessions shall be made shall be prescribed by the state's attorney.

"After we have submitted ourselves to Mr. Tuohy the proceedings shall be carried on from there by Mr. Tuohy."

Seeks Mercy Of Court.

This meant, in effect, that Heirens, brilliant University of Chicago student by day and wanton prowler and killer by night, was throwing himself on the mercy of the court.

The arraignment of Heirens has been set for next Tuesday at 10 a. m. At that time, the curly headed youth will be brought before Judge Harold Ward, chief justice of the Cook County Criminal courts, to make a plea.

Instead of answering guilty or not guilty, Heirens, through his attorney, will ask for a continuance, and it was predicted in court circles that it would be granted.

Then Heirens will be rushed to the office of State's Attorney Tuohy to dictate full and formal

House Votes Filipino Loan, RFC Extension

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The house by voice vote Saturday approved an extension of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.'s financial program until next June 30 and authorized it to loan $75,000,000 to the Philippine republic.

The legislation was returned to the senate, which passed it without the loan provision and which had voted to continue RFC until June 30, 1952. Without the legislation, the RFC would expire next January.

The loan provision stipulates a minimum interest rate of two per cent.

Atlanta Hotel Guests Routed

. . . BY SPECTACULAR FIRE

ATLANTA—(AP)—A fire on the ninth floor of the Piedmont hotel sent two elderly guests to the hospital and routed hundreds of others into the streets of downtown Atlanta early Saturday.

The spectacular blaze, confined to three rooms on the ninth floor of the 11-story hotel, was brought under control quickly.

Cause of the blaze and the amount of damage were not immediately determined.

Emergency Lights Used When Doctor Delivers Baby

. . . AS CITY POWER FAILS

Caught without lights or water pressure when the city's power plant failed for a short period Friday evening, two doctors at the Lincoln General hospital operated under emergency battery lights to deliver a baby girl and set the fractured ankle of a five-year-old Ashland youth Friday evening.

Dr. Richard Garlinghouse reported that the hospital's lights cut out as he was attending Mrs. Virgil Johnson, of 516 North Sixteenth street. Hospital attendants immediately turned on the emergency power unit which allowed him to finish the delivery under battery lights.

Dr. Garlinghouse said he was an old hand at delivering babies with the "lights out," his previous experience being last March 1, when the power failed. Both the baby and Mrs. Johnson, the wife of a University of Nebraska student from Albion, were reported doing nicely.

In another part of the hospital, Dr. Fritz Teal had just begun to set a compound fracture of the ankle for young James Anderson, 5, Ashland, when the power failed. Hospital attendants immediately switched on the emergency power unit allowing the doctor to finish. The youth was reported in good condition by hospital attendants.

Peace Efforts Being Renewed

Sharp Conflicts Are Shaping Up As Byrnes Departs For 21-Nation Conference In Paris

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes took off for Paris Saturday with the personal assurances of President Truman that the country is behind him in his efforts to get a just peace for the world.

With considerably more fanfare than has attended any of his previous peace-making missions, Byrnes left for the Paris peace conference in the president's personal plane at 11:20 a. m. (CST). He is due in Paris early Sunday. The 21-nation conference to write peace treaties for Hungary, Italy, Bulgaria, Romania and Finland opens Monday.

Mr. Truman was one of a series of speakers who lauded Byrnes' work and stressed the vital nature of his mission.

Stands on Charters.

The president told a crowd at the airport estimated at 3,000 that in its peace-making policies, the United States stands squarely on the Atlantic charter and the charter of the United Nations.

He wished his secretary of state "good luck" on his task in Paris.

A few seconds before, Byrnes himself had expressed confidence that "at the end of the Paris conference we will be able to sign the first peace treaties."

That signing, he said, will be "only a start on the road back to peace."

The maintenance of peace, Byrnes continued, depends not only on what is written into treaties.

From Hearts Of Men.

He said that the peace "must come from the hearts of men" and that in this respect "the effort to make peace live has only begun."

"We are of one mind as to one object," Byrnes declared. "Never again shall America return to isolation."

No matter how difficult the problems of peace making may become, the secretary continued,

House Votes To Wind Up Friday

WASHINGTON—(AP) — The house Saturday passed a resolution calling for adjournment of the 79th congress next Friday.

The resolution, which now goes to the senate for consideration, was adopted by a 168 to 3 standing vote. Earlier there had been talk of quitting as early as next Wednesday.

The adjournment motion was offered by house Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts.

Adjournment next week would give congress the prospect of its longest vacation in eight years.

Is Congress Responsive To American Popular Will?

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—To hail the adoption of a slightly revised OPA as a great triumph of the popular will would be a long way from the truth. How effectively it will push back the tide of mounting prices is still a large question.

Marquis Childs

But above and beyond the shrieking of the propaganda dervishes, certain facts stand out which should not be forgotten. FIRST OF ALL, A GREAT MAJORITY OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE WANTED PRICE CONTROL CONTINUED.

Whatever you may think of the popular-opinion polls, they are a measure, however exact, of the current tides of opinion. The other day Elmo Roper, whose polls have shown a remarkable degree of accuracy, pointed out a significant thing.

Canvassing all the polls taken on the question of whether price control should or should not be kept, he showed in an article in the New York Herald-Tribune that every poll without exception reported a large majority in favor of keeping controls. This was true of the Gallup poll, of the National Opinion Research Center in Denver, and of such reliable local polls as those conducted by the Des Moines Register in Iowa and the Minneapolis Tribune in Minnesota.

The percentages varied somewhat but, when the direct question was put, at least 65 per cent of those asked said yes, they did want controls continued. That is a very high average, particularly when the number expressing no view is taken into consideration.

On April 21, the National Opinion Research Center asked the question: "During the next year, do you think it will be necessary or unnecessary for the government to continue to control prices?" Eighty-two per cent answered it would be necessary; 13 per cent, unnecessary; and 5 per cent were undecided.

This, then, refutes the propaganda that OPA was not popular. Of course it was not popular with those who wanted to make a killing on hoarded inventories of scarce goods. Nor can a majority of 65 per cent or better be put down merely to pressure groups such as CIO and AFL.

A second bit of propaganda, it seems to me, has exaggerated out of all proportion to the truth the black market in such scarce commodities as meat. We in our family have never paid more than ceiling prices for meat and, while we may have been more fortunate than some, we have not felt that we suffered from a shortage of meat.

Moreover, I have made a point in recent months of asking a great many people whether they bought black market meat or if they knew where it could be bought. I have never had anyone say that, through their own first-hand knowledge, they could get rare cuts of meats by paying higher prices.

From the propaganda, one would have gathered that most Americans were patronizing the black market. Restaurants and hotels perhaps resorted to under-the counter sources, which certainly existed in this big, rich country on a large scale. But so far as most householders are concerned, there has been no proof whatsoever that they sought out black markets in the mass.

A third line of propaganda has sought to convince us that high prices were merely temporary. Supply and demand, it has been argued, would inevitably work to bring reasonable prices again.

This overlooks several factors. One is that demand, in the light of accumulated reserves of purchasing power, is likely to be miles ahead of supply for a long time to come.

The aftermath of the war is abnormal in other ways. As the Denver Post pointed out in a recent editorial, the supply of meat is likely to be scarce in the fall and winter because of the diversion of grain to Europe and Asia for the relief of hunger. What happens to prices now, particularly to meat prices, is scarcely typical, since buying always falls off in the summer.

You can look back to the beginning of price control. Bernard M. Baruch said then, with unmistakable clarity, that only by controlling all elements in the economy, including wages, and using taxes and finance rigorously as a supplement, would it be possible to hold back the tide of inflation.

He said, too, that the law as adopted during the war should provide a continuation of price controls for two years after the war. But the political pressures were too great. Or such was the judgment of President Roosevelt and the men around him.

Now OPA is a thing of shreds and patches. But it is better than nothing at all, and that is why President Truman decided to sign the new bill. By his earlier veto, he made an honest try to get something stronger but, just as in the beginning of OPA, congress decided it was politically impossible.

Mayor Has Trouble When He Tries Pass Driving License Test

WARRENTON, Ors. — (AP) — Mayor F. M. Wilson ran up against some bad luck when he attempted to pass a city driving license test.

With examiner A. M. Umbrey along to check the mayor, he gave his brand new car the gas and it roared backward across the street into a store.

Bystanders scattered, glass shattered, Clerk Dorothy Johnson fled to safety as the vehicle came to a stop in front of her desk.

The mayor and examiner were unhurt but the office and car were a mess.

"What do you think!" was Umbrey's reply when asked if the mayor would be issued a driving license.

$10,000 Reward Is Posted

Gov. Arnall Offers Cash For Evidence To Apprehend Mob

ATLANTA—(AP)—Gov. Ellis Arnall Saturday offered rewards totaling more than $10,000 for solution of the out-of-hand slaying in Walton county of two Negro farm hands and their wives.

The state executive told newsmen at a special press conference that he was ordering the state police to remain in the county "until the guilty parties have been identified and turned over to law enforcement officers."

The governor said "the decent people of Georgia are humiliated about the mass murder of four Negroes in Walton county by an unknown mob of some 20 desperadoes.

Must Have Justice.

"As governor of Georgia I am offering a reward to the full limit of the law. Five hundred dollars will be paid for evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of each participant in the massacre. These rewards will total more than $10,000. The lawless gang must be arrested and brought to justice."

Arnall's statement followed a suggestion from the head of the Georgia bureau of investigation that the shootings near Monroe, 40 miles from Atlanta, was a "rehearsed affair."

Major William E. Spence of the GBI said:

"It looks like it was a rehearsed affair. It looks like it might have been planned since the negro was first confined to jail."

He referred to Roger Malcolm, 27-year-old negro who had made bond on a charge of stabbing his employer, a white man. Malcolm, his wife, and George Dorsey and his wife were the mob's victims.

Although an announcement from Washington said the federal bureau of investigation would investigate the case for the civil rights section of the justice department, an assistant district attorney said:

"So far it seems to be a state case."

Woman Pulled Into Auto And Beaten, Raped

. . . BY 2 PHILADELPHIA MEN

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Dragged into an automobile by the hair, 25-year-old Mrs. Thelma Concepcion said she was beaten unconscious by two men early Saturday, then raped and robbed.

The young mother, wife of a sailor, reported she worked a penknife from her pocketbook which was lying on the automobile floor beside her and stabbed one of her assailants in the left side.

He threatened to kill her, said Mrs. Concepcion, but was disuaded by a companion. They threw the woman into a lonely street and drove off.

Three hours after the abduction in the central city section, Mrs. Bella Gideon, 64-year-old widow, reported she was raped and robbed of $30 by a man who entered her second floor apartment and held a knife to her left side, cutting her slightly.

Hike Values Farmlands 10 West Counties

. . . Par Rest Of State

Valuations of farm lands in 10 western Nebraska counties were increased 10 to 15 per cent to put them on a par with other counties at a Friday afternoon meeting of the state board of equalization.

The counties and increases were: Box Butte, Banner, Custer, Rock, Red Willow, Hayes and Keith—10 per cent; Sheridan, Garden and Perkins—15 per cent.

Friday's hearing was the last scheduled by the board before computing the total assessed valuation for the state and fixing the tax levy.

At a Friday morning meeting of the board, three county officials from Box Butte county appeared to protest the proposed 10 per cent hike for their county. Tax Commissioner Robert Armstrong reported that protests were received from two other counties, although no one appeared from them.

Escapes Injury When Car Catches Fire Following Collision

Wilbur L. Parker, jr., 17, of 828 North Fifteenth street, escaped serious injury when his car caught fire following a two-car collision at Tenth and Washington streets about 10:48 p. m. Friday.

Parker was driving north on Tenth when a car coming south, driven by Mrs. Clair Miles, 40, of 707 South Twenty-sixth street, attempted a left turn onto Washington, striking the Parker car on the left front.

The impact knocked the cap off the Parker car's gas tank and broke the rear window, allowing gasoline to spray into the rear of the car. The gas caught fire causing considerable damage to the car before firemen arrived.

Chaplain Asks More Respect For Women

CAMP KILMER, N. J.—(INS) Army Chaplain Albinus R. Leach Saturday decried the "wolf whistle" as "low, cheap, cowardly and moronic" and urged that it be replaced by tipping the hat.

The chaplain, writing in the Kilmer Eagle, warned that unless Americans learn to respect women they will slip into the degeneracy and effeminacy which destroyed ancinet Rome.

—War Profits—

Senate Probes Devious

Comptroller General Will Give Testimony On Irregularities

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Widening their war profits inquiry, senate investigators disclosed Saturday they will call Comptroller General Lindsay Warren for a report on cases where he has sniffed irregularities, but has not been able to do anything about them.

Chairman Mead (D-NY) said the war investigating committee will discuss with Warren on Monday the "loopholes" that he has found in the governments' machinery for holding down excessive profits on making of military equipment. The committee was in recess Saturday.

Two of the government's principal ways of recapturing undue profits are in machinery for renegotiating and terminating contracts.

The committee already has asked the general accounting office for a report on termination of contracts with the Garsson munitions combine it has been investigating.

Evidence Lacking.

Senators Brewster (R-Me) and Ferguson (R-Mich) said it is their understanding that Warren will tell the committee about certain cases in which the GAO believes that irregularities occurred but lacks the definite evidence of fraud it needs to make its own inquiry.

They said the committee expects also to obtain suggestions as to how it can make an overall survey of profits.

In connection with the inquiry into the Garsson combine there were these developments:

1. Mead led a committee group into a conference with Attorney General Clark at which the New Yorker said the senators would ask for income tax returns of all officers of the Garsson companies and the Cumberland Lumber Co., which Rep. May (D-Ky), served as Kentucky agent.

2. Mead declared that the committee will be available when May, whose doctor reported him ill and unable to testify for 10 days or two weeks, is able to tell about his relations with the Garsson combine.

3. Fergusson demanded that the committee ask Col. Harold Brooks how he happened to give Maj. Gen. Alden Waitt, chief of the chemical warfare service, a letter from May to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower. Waitt delivered the letter on a trip to Europe during the war. The letter interceded for Capt. Joseph H. Garsson, then facing court-martial action. Garsson was convicted of disobeying a command and sentenced to dismissal from the service but sentence was suspended.

4. In Batavia, Ill., Capt. Garsson, now out of the army, told a news conference that the whole time he was in service his commanders were under instructions to "take care of Garsson." He said he believed the influence came "through generals in the chemical warfare branch."

In San Francisco, Maj. Gen. Robert T. Frederick, Garsson's commander during his service in Italy, commented: "I did not receive any instructions to take care of Capt. Garsson. During the time he served with me, I was never aware that any influence surrounded him in any way."

5. In Havana, Murray Garsson, one of the organizers of the combine and father of the former army captain, called the Mead inquiry "a smear campaign."

"All this talk of war profiteering is ridiculous," he added in an interview. "My company made no millions as is charged; our profit was less than 6 per cent of the invested capital."

Clark Not Candidate Chairman

Field Virtually Open As Leaders Jockey For Position Before Meet

By RANDALL W. BLAKE.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Democratic party circles are indicating that C. L. Clark of Lincoln will not be a candidate for state chairman and that the field will be left virtually wide open for William Ritchie of Omaha ife he wants the post. Clark is present state vice-chairman.

The job of state chairman was left "in the air" by the decision of William Schall of Omaha, not to seek re-election and the post is to be filled by the post-primary convention in August.

Energetic Organizer.

Ritchie supporters term their man an "energetic organizer," well qualified for the state chairmanship at this time when, they say, the spirit of the party is re-awakening and confidence of ability to win a few offices is growing.

Clark's wife is national committeewoman for the democrats, and is expected to be a candidate for re-election to that post in the fall balloting.

Won't Try 2 Spots.

It is a job for the post-primary convention to nominate candidates for national committeeman and committewoman for certification for places on the ballot, and the Clarks, a close observer said, are unlikely to go after two places at the convention.

The present national committeeman is James C. Quigley of Valentine, who has been under fire as was Schall, by a group of dissatisfied party members.

Quigley, one observer said, may not seek re-election, in which event Ritchie may go after that spot instead of the state chairmanship.

Omaha Or Fremont.

The democrats will decide between Omaha or Fremont as their convention city, with Fremont being indicated as having a good chance of getting the meeting, especially if the large Fremont auditorium is available on the date selected.

One observer said the party expects to do its business in one day, thus hotel space would not be a great problem, and that Fremont is handy for the large Omaha delegation to get to.

The post-primary law states that the post-primary convention "shall" adopt a platform while the pre-primary law states that the pre-primary convention "may" adopt a platform.

"May" was interpreted by the republicans to mean "shall" and the party adopted a platform at its Omaha meeting, but the democrats "debated" the question and adopted a set of resolutions, which in most respects approached a platform.

Will Adopt Platform.

Thus the democrats probably will "adopt" a platform at their August meeting while the republicans, assembled at Hastings on Aug. 26, apparently won't have to labor over that job.

From the republican standpoint of state chairman and national committeeman and woman, the incumbents appear good bets for re-election and renomination.

"Bert" Howard of Scottsbluff, probably can have the state chairmanship again with little or no opposition, while "Abe" Shotwell of Omaha, has been well liked as national committeeman, and Mrs. Edna Donald of Grand Island, has the same hold as national committeewoman.

Fairbury Firm Low Bidders On Work At Fort Randall Town

OMAHA—(AP)—The Commercial Builders, Inc., of Fairbury, Neb., Saturday was named the apparent low bidder on the construction of initial phases of a government town at the Fort Randall, S. D., damsite, Lt. Col. D. B. Freeman, Missouri river division engineer, announced.

The Fairbury firm's bid of $337,945.29 was more than 25 per cent above the government estimate. A previous set of bids was rejected July 12 as being excessive.

Approval Of Army Is Given NNG Air Unit

. . . First In Nation

Nebraska's national guard air unit—the first to be established in the nation since the end of the war—was officially approved by the army Friday evening when Col. William R. Sweeley, assistant chief of staff and A-4 of the Second army air force, inspected personnel of the newly organized unit and the armory at Twenty-fourth and O streets.

Col. Sweeley told members of the unit that they were to be commended on the speed and efficiency with which they had organized the Nebraska national guard air unit.

During the evening inspection, a number of officers who have signed into the air unit were interviewed by an inspection board composed of Col. Sweeley, Lt. Col. Maurice S. Wessell, and Lt. Col. Thomas H. Crowley. An inspection of the unit's enlisted men was held by the officers.

Col. Sweeley was accompanied to Lincoln for the inspections by a number of other officers of the Second air force.

Custer Power District May Expand Lines

. . . 10,000 Square Miles

BROKEN BOW, Neb. — (AP)— The Custer Public Power district is proceeding with expansion plans which will make it one of the largest REA units in the midwest.

Latest step in district plans to cover 10,000 square miles in central Nebraska is a new transmission line from the power source at North Platte into a large section of southwest Custer county, the South Loup valley and nearby portions of Logan and Lincoln counties.

REA officials said this extension will make possible the servicing of hundreds of farm homes in that large area in the future.

The district has completed negotiations for purchase of the electrical distribution system at Stapleton in Logan county for $6,000. The action must be ratified by a vote of Stapleton citizens.

The purchase includes not only the distribution system but also a 25-mile transmission line from North Platte. The line is about 25 years old and the Custer REA district plans to salvage valuable material and build a new line of 34,000-volt capacity to tie in to the district's system, which now extends from Seneca east to Ansley.

The district also is negotiating purchase of a small distribution system at Gandy. The district has applied for $600,000 additional loans from the federal REA with which to build new lines.

Divided Palestine Proposed

ARABS SAY ACTION WOULD REQUIRE USE OF ATOMIC BOMBS

LONDON—(AP)—The foreign office announced Saturday British acceptance, as a basis for negotiation, of a proposal to divide Palestine into Jewish and Aran provinces under a federal government.

Negotiations on the plan for federation, a spokesman said, would be conducted with Arabs and Jews in London with a view to completing them before the meeting of the United Nations assembly in September.

The proposal is the outcome of discussions by members of a British-American cabinet committee on Palestine, which the foreign office said completed work yesterday.

Plan Is Adopted.

U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes disclosed in Washington last night that the cabinet committee had adopted a plan for the partition of Palestine.

The basis of representation and date for the conference with Jews and Arabs has not been fixed, a foreign office spokesman said, but the discussions need not wait for the end of the Paris peace conference, a foreign office spokesman said.

Well-informed Jewish sources in Paris said Jewish acceptance of the plan might depend upon whether 100,000 Jews are admitted to the Holy Land immediately. David Ben-Gurion, chairman fo the Jewish agency, who is in Paris, refused to comment on the plan however unttil he had seen the official text of the proposals and discussed it with his associates. A conference of the Jewish agency executive opens in Paris next week.

Scheme Denounced.

Some other Zionists and some Arab spokesmen, however, were prompt in outright denunciation of the scheme. Dr. Izzat Tannous, retiring secretary of the defunct Arab higher committee, in Palestine, declared the scheme would mean "perpetual war" in the Middle East.

"We are absolutely against it," said A. Abramhamson, member of the world executive of the new Zionist organization. "We regard it as an evasion."

In Cairo, an Arab league statement said the Arabs would fight partition just as they fought immigration of 100,000 Jews and creation of a Jewish national home in Palestine. Dr. Yacoub Khoury, head of the Palestine Arab association in Cairo, said the scheme could not be carried out "unless America makes use of the atom bomb."

Cattle Shipments During June Twice Same Month In '45

Twice as many stocker and feeder cattle moved to Nebraska country points in June of this year as in June of 1945.

The state-federal division of agricultural statistics said 28,030 head were shipped last June. For the first six months of 1946 shipments totalled 154,614 head compared to 133,782 head in the same period of 1945.

Shipments of sheep this June to country points totalled 4,343 head, an increase of 33 per cent over June, 1945. For the first six months of 1946 the count was 155,461 head, an increase of 21 per cent over 1945.

Shipment of stocker and feeder cattle in the eight corn belt states for June totalled 141,158 head, a gain of 21 per cent over 1945.

Sheep and lamb shipments for June in the eight states were 75,790 head, a 45 per cent hike over 1945.

Student To Talk On Agriculture In Egypt

"Present day agriculture in Egypt" will be the topic of the address of Monamed Mohamed Oloufa, of Cairo, Egypt, now student at the University of Nebraska, when he speaks at the Rotary luncheon next Tuesday, July 30, at the Cornhusker.

Oloufa, who is attending the college of agriculture, enrolled at Nebraska last February to study livestock breeding. He is one of a number of young Egyptians coming to this country to study modern agricultural practices under a scholarship granted him by the Egyptian government.

The Rotarian of the day will be Martin Muma of the department of entomology at the college of agriculture.

'Borderline' Farm Helpers Are Excluded

. . . UNDER WAGNER LABOR ACT

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman has signed an appropriation bill which will exclude "borderline" agricultural workers from provisions of the Wagner labor relations act.

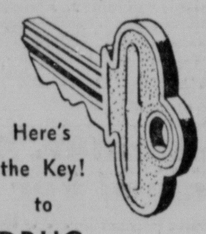

The bill, carrying $1,155,015,670 for the labor department and the federal security agency, also returns the United States employment service to state operation Nov. 15. The president approved it late Friday.

A senate amendment provided that none of the funds for operation of the Wagner act shall be used on cases involving agricultural workers. It stipulated that this means agricultural workers as defined in the Wagner act, rather than the definition of such employes contained in the social security act.

The CIO food and tobacco workers asserted the amendment would exclude 1,000,000 persons from protection of the Wagner act.

Platte County Girl's Death Due To Polio

57 Cases In Entire State

Four additional cases of poliomyelitis, one each from Madison, Scotts Bluff, Dixon and Adams counties, were reported to the state department of health Saturday, raising the total cases in the state so far this year to 57, the department said.

Another death from the disease, that of Clara Burchal, 14, Platte Center, was reported, bringing the state total of fatalities for the year to five. The girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Burchal, farmers near Platte Center. She died in an Omaha hospital.

10 Chadron Cases

Dr. Fred Long, director of the division of communicable diseases of the state department of health, is in western Nebraska investigating polio reports from Chadron, where there were 10 cases Saturday, with polio symptoms being present in two other cases.

Press dispatches from Chadron said the count there did not include an 11-year-old Chadron girl who died in an Alliance hospital Friday. Dr. Long said one other Chadron girl was in critical condition at an Alliance hospital. The state health official met with Chadron city officials Friday to suggest precautionary measures.

Chadron's 10 cases were the heaviest concentration in the state so far, Omaha having eight and Pawnee county five.

At the Orthopedic hospital, the condition of Joan Schmidt, 16, second Lancaster county polio case of the year, was reported as "about the same." The girl is not in an iron lung, hospital attendants said. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Schmidt, 3618 South Forty-ninth street.

FUND TRANSFER LEGAL

pears that it has at all times been created and appropriated as a temporary fund for the current biennium only, and not as a special or trust fund nor as a continuing appropriation," he held.

Funds Were Earmarked.

Accompanying each re-enactment of the statute were appropriation bills, specifically alloting the amount of money to be spent for state assistance during each two year period, Judge Ankeny held.

The court pointed out that since this was done, the original statute cannot be considered an appropriation bill.

Referring to previous court decisions upholding the policy that two acts relating to the same thing and having the same general purpose are considered together as one act, he held that the two should be considered together in order to interpret the legislature's intention.

In view of this, he further held that use of the word "appropriation" in the original statute should not prevail, since it was obviously not the intention of the legislature to consider this an appropriation bill.

Expressly Limits Time

Since the statute expressly limits the time of each appropriation to two years, the judge held that the appropriation is a temporary and not a continuing one.

Judge Ankeny concluded his decision by further holding that since the unappropriated balance of $1,137,257.57 in the state assistance fund on June 30, 1945 constituted unappropriated state funds, it was therefore subject to "legislative control" by the 1945 session of the legislature.

Representing the defendants was Homer L. Kyle, assistant state attorney general. Also opposing the petition was C. A. Sorensen, who entered the case to represent himself and other interested parties. William Niklaus was attorney for the plaintiff.

Money for the state assistance fund is derived from a number of sources, including the gasoline tax, and head tax. Objection arose last year when the legislature appropriated $1,000,000 of the unexpended balance for state assistance, and transferred the remaining $1,137,327.57 to the general fund.

Final briefs in the case, which has been pending for over a year, were received by the court about two weeks ago.

112 County 4-H Boys, Girls Register For State Camp At Seward

County Agent V. H. Petersen reported that 112 4-H boys and girls in Lancaster county had already registered for the state's 4-H camps at Seward.

Two encampments, one beginning next Monday, and the other on Thursday remain, Petersen said.

Over 25 clubbers, between the ages of 10 and 15, took part in the first encampment this week.

Heirens Will Confess

confessions to the three crimes, two of which—the Brown and Degnan slayings—shocked the entire nation.

Stolen From Bedroom.

Little Suzanne, blonde-haired and blue-eyed, was stolen from her bedroom in her pajamas last Jan. 7 by an abductor who left a note demanding $20,000 ransom from the child's father, James E. Degnan, a former OPA official.

Her body was dismembered, and her arms, legs, torso and head stuffed into four different sewers near the Degnan home.

Twenty-eight days before that, Miss Brown was shot and stabbed to death in her apartment. Her half-nude body was found sprawled over the side of a bathtub and the knife used in the attack was still embedded in her neck.

The killer left a message in lipstick on the wall declaring:

"For heaven's sake catch me before I kill more. I cannot control myself."

"Statement Of Fact."

It was reported that Heirens' "abstract statement of fact" admitting the three murders did not go into full details.

It was possible that Heirens, even with full confessions, might be placed on trial for his life.

Chief Justice Ward has i. within his power to impanel a jury to pass on Heirens' guilt and the extent of punishment which should be meted out to the boy, who started his crime career when he was only 13.

However, with the confessions, it was expected that Tuohy would recommend that Heirens be let off with a life sentence and not sent to the electric chair.

Caught Prowling.

First step in the long chain of legal process to decide Heirens' fate was expected to be appointment of psychiatrists to examine the boy.

The "jury" of psychiatrists may be appointed Tuesday, and begin examination of Heirens after he makes his full and formal confessions.

Young Heirens was arrested June 26 when he was caught apartment prowling. He was first listed as a murder suspect when it was found by police that his fingerprints matched those found on the Degnan ransom note.

Heirens, at a conference in the Cook county jail Friday, broke down. The conference was attended by Heirens, his attorneys and his grief-stricken parents.

It was then, it was reported, that Heirens said that he "did them." He was referring, it was said, to the murders.

He said, however, he did not know why.

Meanwhile, it was reported that Heirens was becoming "shaky" as he prepared to make a clean breast of it. His jail guards said that, where normally he played solitaire and read, he was now pacing up and down in his cell.

Prays Occasionally.

He also knelt and prayed occasionally, and, at times, said his Rosary.

His greatest solace was his parents.

They promised they would stand by him.

It was a dramatic and moving scene as Heirens told his parents that he was a master criminal while they thought he was a university student with deep religious leanings.

Mrs. Heirens, according to jail guards, was visibly shocked. She was so astounded and moved that she could not cry, only gasp in consternation.

The father, husky and well over 6 feet tall, had to brush tears from his eyes.

The boy cried.

Heirens, once he started, talked freely, without prodding. He talked for more than one hour.

The conference itself lasted for two hours and 15 minutes.

Much of it was given over to drawing up the agreement, or document, in which Heirens offered to make a clean breast of it publicly.

Heirens' parents signed the offer.

Then, with firm hand, Heirens signed.

PEACE EFFORTS

the country now knows there is "no security in isolation."

As Byrnes flew toward Paris there already was building up a sharp conflict between Byrnes and Foreign Minister Molotov over Russian reparation demands on Hungary.

Protest To Russia.

The United States is insisting that a new economic deal in Hungary is essential to establishment of a firm peace in Europe. It has protested strongly Red army seizures of Hungarian foodstuffs and Soviet removals of Hungarian factories as well as current industrial production, contending the result is economic chaos in the Balkan nation.

The protest, made public by the state department Friday night, highlights the difficulties confronting Byrnes as he sets out Saturday for Paris.

Byrnes briefly reviewed some of his Paris projects at a news conference. He said that he planned on Monday to confer with the three American members of a joint Anglo-American committee on Palestine. The aim is to fix American policy on the committee's proposal for partitioning Palestine betwen Jews and Arabs in connection with the plan for immigration of 100,000 Jews.

On another aspect of his Paris mission, Byrnes said that he expected American troops to be withdrawn from Italy within 90 days after the Italian peace treaty is signed.

Will Hear Both Sides.

Byrnes also said that at the Paris conference both minority and majority views can be fully presented. He explained this is because procedures are proposed which would prevent any majority in a committee from overriding minority opinion and preventing its presentation to the full conference.

On most major issues, he made clear, the United States is already committed to act with the other great powers—Russia, Britain and France—as a result of compromise agreements made in the recent foreign minister conferences. However, on issues on which no final commitment has been made the United States will have the right to fight for its own solution. This may mean conflict with Russia on several points of Balkans policy, particularly such matters as free navigation of the Danube.

4 Reformatory Escapees Get 2 Years In Pen

Four reformatory escapees were sentenced by Judge J. H. Broady to two years each in the state penitentiary, the sentences to begin after completion of their present terms. All four men pleaded guilty in District court Saturday morning to a charge of escaping custody.

They were: Ray Floyd, 20; Ancie Deaton, 22; Michael Baker, 22; and Robert Felton, 18. All four escaped from the state reformatory for men earlier in the month.

Lloyd and Baker were apprehended just about an hour after they had gone over the fence on July 15. Lloyd, who stated he had an honorable discharge from the navy, had served eight months of a two to four term for auto theft in Box Butte county.

Deaton had only served one month of a year's sentence for larceny in Douglas county. His home was given as Middletown, Ohio.

Baker, of Omaha, and Felton, of Cincinnati, O., were apprehended in Cincinnati after escaping from the reformatory on July 6, while on cleanup duty near Pioneers park. Baker had served seven and a half months of a one to two year sentence for breaking and entering in Omaha.

Felton had served almost 10 months of one to three year term for grand larceny in Saline county.

A fifth man, Clifford S. Allen, 22, of Albion, Mich., who escaped with Lloyd and Ancie, is still at large. Serving a four year term for statutory rape, he was sentenced from Douglas county on Feb. 4, 1946.

CAR PRICES REVERT

restoring dealers' prewar profit margins which OPA had reduced.

Clothing Prices Up.

Clothing price rises of 15 to 20 per cent were forecast by price officials Saturday as the revived OPA worked on new price increase orders.

Thirty to 40 ceiling actions were due for issuance during the day. None was of high importance but all were part of the feverish drive to get the economy back under the loose-fitting lid supplied by congress after 25 OPA-less days.

Friday, 143 such orders were signed.

Barred by the new law from restoring ceilings on meat, milk and some other foods, OPA turned to clothing as its gravest immediate worry.

See Living Cost Trouble.

Lacking control over raw cotton, and now required to pass along to the consumer any rise in costs of cotton or woolen material, price men said privately that they foresaw cost-of-living trouble.

Garment increases therefore may be among the early boosts authorized under the new pricing standards set by congress. Friday's and Saturday's actions, though, they covered literally thousands of consumer and industrial items, all were "in the works" when OPA expired on June 30. The new increases still must be figured out.

Meantime, the white house was watched closely for three major appointments—the members of the price decontrol board which is empowered to give OPA orders to knock out controls or restore them on any product.

Should Curbs Go Back?

The board's first and biggest job is to decide whether ceilings should go back Aug. 21 on meat and dairy products, grains, cottonseed and soybeans. It must also decide whether poultry, eggs, petroleum and tobacco and their products stay control-free after that date, as they will in the absence of board action.

These developments kept the OPA machinery humming:

Headquarters and district office staffs strove to prepare new community food price lists to replace those made obsolete by the new law.

A long list of ceiling-free products was being drawn up for industry's guidance, since the exemptions on livestock, milk, soybeans and cottonseed apply also to products made "in whole or in substantial part" from those items. OPA must decide what is "a substantial part."

Can't Double Force

Enforcement plans were intensified. One official said, however, that the slash in OPA's appropriation to $75,000,000 had clouded previous plans to double the compliance force of 5,000 agents and aides.

The plans will be carried out if congress heeds President Truman's request that $26,000,000 additional be appropriated for the agency.

Asking the money Friday, Mr. Truman said that even with these additional funds OPA would have only enough money to operate until February, when more money can be provided by the new congress. The $75,000,000 appropriation represented a reduction of $67,200,000 from budget estimates.

Price Administrator Paul Porter served notice that OPA will not "rush to the rescue" of merchants who bought goods at high prices during OPA-less days "in anticipation of unloading at still higher prices."

About 40 per cent of all foods remain under control, he reminded grocers and housewives, and ceilings on most goods revert to their June 30 levels.

Automobile prices, it was learned, may jump higher under the new law than OPA previously calculated. They may go up $100 for a lower-priced car instead of only $75. The new car regulation is expected soon.

In accordnce with the new law, it will restore dealers' pre-war profit margins which OPA had sought, under the old law, to reduce.

9 Gallons Gas Stolen

The theft of nine gallons of gasoline was reported Saturday morning by Hugh Meyers of Davey, who stated that during the night someone had broken the lock on his gas pump, according to the report by Deputy Sheriff Merle Karnopp. The break-in and theft was reported about 6:40 a. m. Saturday.

Week-End Is Light On Activity

AS A MATTER OF FACT THERE is nothing particularly subdued about the current week-end—There are parties, quite a number of them—some farewell courtesies, some prenuptial courtesies, and others just parties for no special reason — But Lincoln has been so exceedingly social this season that unless there is a tremendous amount of activity, the town seems very quiet—

AND THIS IS THE DAY that the town seems quiet—Already chattered about have been the dinner, for which Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Faulkner will be host and hostess on Saturday evening at the Lincoln Country club, in farewell courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. W. Max Orr—and the no host dinner at the LCC given by the members of a dinner club as a courtesy to Miss Alice Louise Becker and her fiance, William J. Goodwin—

BUT WHAT WE DID NOT KNOW yesterday has to do with a guest who flew in Friday cisco—and left again today for New York City. Mr. Davies is the cousin of Mrs. Lyle Holland who, with Mr. Holland entertained at dinner this evening at the Lincoln Country club, with the foursome from San Francisco as their guests. Mr. Davies was the overnight guest of Mr. and Mrs. Holland.

WHEN THE ARNOTT FOLSOMS returned a few days ago from a trip to Bermuda, they brought word of Father William J. Woon, at one time rector of St. Matthews church, Episcopal, Mrs. Woon and their family, who now reside at Port Washington, Long Island, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Folsom spent a short time in New York City, and while there were joined at luncheon one day by Father and Mrs. Woon.

BRIDES-TO-BE enter the news picture today, too—Miss Barbara True, whose marriage to Sidney Ray Bradley, jr., will be an early August event, has numerous parties in the offing—But on Thursday evening Miss True was the honoree at a bathroom shower for which Miss Pat Gilligan was hostess at her home.

A next Wednesday hostess for Miss True will be Mrs. Gerald Brownfield who will entertain sixteen guests at a bridge party and miscellaneous shower in the evening, at her home.

And a week from today Mrs. Robert Glenn, who before her recent marriage was Carol Jean McGrew, will be hostess at an evening bridge party and a miscellaneous shower, complimenting Miss True. Eight guests have been invited.

THEN THERE IS MISS ALICE LOUISE BECKER who has had few spare moments between parties since her engagement to William Jarrad Goodwin was announced—

On next week's calendar for Miss Becker is the informal tea between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock on Monday afternoon, for which Mrs. Larry Becker will be hostess at her home. Thirty guests have been invited to the tea, and presiding at the table the first hour will be Mrs. C. Myron Loomis. Taking her place at the table the second hour will be Mrs. Al Clemens.

AND ON TUESDAY Miss Becker is to be the honoree at a luncheon for which Mrs. W. M. Stoner will be hostess at the Lincoln Country club.

THE PARTY TODAY for which Mrs. James P. Murphy was hostess was a mother-daughter luncheon at the University club in honor of Miss Patricia Murphy who leaves Sunday evening for Chicago where she will take her internship in dietetics at Cook county hospital. Places were arranged for nine, and following the luncheon the afternoon was spent informally.

ADD TO THE GUEST LIST this week the names of Mrs. George Hayden and her son, Scott, who arrived from Denver a few days ago to be the guests of Mrs. Hayden's mother, Mrs. Frost Buchtel, and her grandmother, Mrs. Samuel C. Waugh, sr.

AND DOWN FROM OMAHA this week-end are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall who are the house guests of Mrs. Marshall's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Barlow.

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Barlow will be host and hostess at a sixsome dinner at the Lincoln Country club, complimenting their guests.

ONE OF SATURDAY'S LUNCHEON hostesses was Miss Betty Bennett who entertained a group of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority sisters as a courtesy to Mrs. William Bennett Ammon, who before her marriage recently was Miss Barbara Groff of Dayton, O. Mrs. Ammon is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority at the University of Ohio.

Following luncheon the group of ten spent the afternoon informally.

Tsk! Tsk! GIRLS—

It's A Crying Shame

JUST AS though things weren't bad enough as they are—a man has to write a book about it—

It would be a man, of course, who would think up something such as Dr. Clifford Adams did on page thirty-four of his new book—"How to Pick a Mate."

Dr. Adams, bless his little bones, lists Lincoln, Neb., as one of the twenty best cities for men of marriageable age who are anxious to get a wife.

The other side of the story is much darker—He also lists Lincoln as one of the twenty cities in the entire United States where a woman's chances of finding a husband are poorest.

Fremont Resident Believes He Spotted Lion In Garden

FREMONT, Neb. — (AP) — A strawberry-loving lion may or may not be lying in A. R. Harrington's asparagus patch here. But until they know for sure the Harringtons are going to buy their asparagus in cans.

According to Harrington, a railroad engineer, a yellow animal with flop ears and "bigger than any cat in town" was clawing up his strawberries when he glanced out the back window early Friday.

Rolling In Dirt

"My laying hen was setting up a fuss and when I looked out I saw this critter rolling in the dirt and scratching at the berry plants," Harrington related. "He was bigger than any cat in town, yellow and real skinny with flop ears."

After the animal finished the berries he walked into a dense growth of asparagus and thereafter wasn't seen or heard.

When Police Chief Robert Millard and Patrolman Tipton Emmons arrived with a shotgun, accompanied by street Commissioner Tom Payne and County Attorney Charles H. Yost, Harrington was straightening out the berry patch with one eye on the asparagus patch and a firm grip on the hoe handle.

The hungry "puss" may be the same over-large animal which Blair and Kennard citizens—some of whom claimed it was a lion—saw some time ago. Police couldn't find anything in the asparagus. But there was unmistakable tracks and tufts of hair on the berry plants.

After a while everyone gave up the hunt and went to work. The hen was the only one who wasn't nervous. She was laying an egg in a cardboard box.

Trio Held In $400 Robbery At Hastings

Oil Company Safe Entered

Three Hastings youths were held Saturday by the state safety patrol and local authorities on charges of breaking and entering and safe-cracking following the $400 robbery of the National Oil (bulk oil) plant at Hastings early Friday morning. Two of the youths have signed confessions admitting the alleged safe-cracking, the patrol said in Lincoln.

The trio, giving the names of Albert Ranson, 18, AWOL from the U. S. army, James Brower, 19, naval dischargee and Byron Helzer, 17, are all residents of Hastings, the patrol said. Ranson was picked up early Friday by the local authorities on the army's AWOL order, Hastings Police Chief Cawieszal said, and among his possessions taken at the station was an empty billfold, identified by Manager D. W. Graham as being in the safe of the oil plant.

Ranson and Helzer, picked up by police, allegedly signed confessions admitting "peeling" the safe at the local plant, the safety patrol said. Further investigation into the safe-cracking will be made, the patrol declared, as this is the seventh in a series of the robberies in the Adams county area.

Forke Bros. Safe Robber Still At Large

. . . Got $151 In Cash

During the noon-hour Friday, a safe robber, who had all the breaks in addition to nice timing, removed $151 in cash from the Forke Brothers and Ficke office, 307 Security Mutual building.

The last member of the firm to leave at 12:20 apparently failed to latch the door securely, the police reported, making entry easy for the intruder. The safe had not been locked, merely shut and the dial turned a few points A little "testing" easily opened it.

When the first employe to return from lunch arrived about 1 p. m., the loss was discovered.

An endorsed, $1,000 check, originally listed as missing, was overlooked by the thief.

Showers In State

Scattered showers fell in Nebraska during Friday night, bringing .72 of an inch of rain to Merriman. Falls City had .30; Albion .20; Omaha .11; Alliance .08; Tekamah and Fremont .04; North Platte .05, and Cambridge .02.

COFFEE PRICE WILL BE HIKED

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The OPA Saturday is preparing to boost the retail price ceiling of coffee by about three cents a pound.

This was disclosed by OPA officials who said, however, that the increase has not yet been finally approved.

The higher price is made neressary by a rise of two cents per pound on green coffee authorized before price controls lapsed June 30.

It was intended at that time to hike the retail ceiling on coffee after a time lag, but controls expired temporarily before this order was issued.

Officials also said no decision has been reached on whether to continue the three cents a pound subsidy on green coffee. If this subsidy is not continued, a further rise of approximately three cents in the ceiling on green coffee will be authorized.

In that case, the retail ceiling on coffee will be boosted about seven cents a pound above present levels.

Clark Leaves Washington For Home In Wyoming

WASHINGTON—(AP) —John D. Clark, newly appointed member of the president's new council of economic advisers, has left Washington en route to Cheyenne, Wyo. He plans to return to Lincoln, Neb., next week.

Clark, dean of the University of Nebraska college of business administration, was questioned by the senate banking committee yesterday, and it was believed the committee will recommend confirmation of his appointment.

Sends New Appeal For Box Cars To Move State's Grain

Richard H. Larson, chairman of the state railway commission, Saturday dispatched three telegrams to Washington officials, including Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, in another move aimed at alleviating the railway box car situation in Nebraska which Larson said, is "getting worse all the time."

In his wire to Anderson, Larson declared: "Your department's efforts to conserve grain are threatened by the increasing seriousness of the shortage of cars to move grain. The non-use of terminal storage facilities aggravates the situation."

In identical telegrams to Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of ODT, and W. C. Kendall, chairman of the car service division of the Association of American Railroads, Larson said:

"Cars to move Nebraska's flood of grain still coming in dribbles. After loading, most cars are diverted from this territory. The situation is progressively getting worse."

Omaha Youth Is Charged Robbing Service Station

Apprehended early Saturday morning after he allegedly attempted to steal a tire and wheel from a Lincoln auto, Lee E. Snyder, 19-year-old Omaha youth, was charged in Municipal court with the Feb., 1945, burglary of the Kenneth Bourne Service station.

Snyder, Lincoln police reported, has been at liberty under bonds totalling $4,500 pending trial in Omaha on charges filed there in Feb. and Sept., 1945, after the burglarizing of liquor and cigarets from two Omaha establishments.

When the youth was unable to decide what he should do, Municipal Judge Fisher entered a plea of not guilty for him and set preliminary hearing for Aug. 2. Appearance bond was set at $1,000.

Evidence which led to this complaint has been in the hands of Lincoln police since Feb., 1945, when he was apprehended by Omaha authorities for the liquor theft, but no action was taken here as Snyder was charged there, police said. The Bourne station at Thirty-third and O streets was burglarized of six auto tires valued at $103.20.

Snyder and two companions were observed at the home of Paul Miller, 1220 South Twentieth street, early Saturday by a neighbor who said that they were jacking up the Miller car. Dashing out, he was able to catch Snyder, while the other two ran away.

Police later apprehended one of the other two as he was attempting to hitch a ride out of town. On parole for his part in one of the two Omaha burglaries, the youth is being held for the parole officer there, police said.

Proposed Hike In Gas Prices Up To Dealers

Lincoln Operators Have No Set Scale

Whether or not Lincoln gasoline and petroleum dealers will increase prices next Tuesday, when a general increase goes into effect based on the increased price of crude oil, will be left up to individual operators, Herbert Hahn, of the Nebraska Petroleum Marketers, said Saturday.

No agreement has been reached among Lincoln operators, Hahn said. "No doubt some will increase prices, and it may be that some places where a low market prevails there will be a greater hike than other places," Hahn said.

The increase on gasoline will be from seven-tenths of a cent to one cent per gallon generally, Hahn declared.

In Omaha, J. H. Hay, manager of the Standard Oil Co. in Nebraska, announced most gasoline and other petroleum prices in the state will be increased. The increase, based on higher production costs, will result generally in a hike of about one cent a gallon on gasoline and one-half cent a gallon on kerosene, he said.

Office To Close Earlier

Effective Monday, July 29, the office of the clerk of the Federal court in Lincoln will close each afternoon at 4:15 p. m. instead of the customary five o'clock.

The new afternoon closing time was ordered into effect with the establishment of a 40-hour week for personnel in the clerk's office, Mary A. Mullen, chief clerk in charge at Omaha, stated.

The Lincoln office will continue to close at noon on Saturday.

AMERICA---A NATION OF "DO WITHOUT"

As a phrase which many millions of Americans would like to kick around—"enlightened self-interest" is a swell dish. It is the favorite of all groups and classes in the United States—labor, management, capitalist, industrialist, farmer, jobber, retailer, and the white-collared worker. In connection with it no one seems to have caught the superb humor of recent weeks, or the rib-tickling comedy of the week that has just come to a close.

Richest and Poorest

Here we are one minute the richest, the most powerful nation in the world; blessed with the most skilled, and the most competent labor—the most capable and the most efficient management—the most marvelous resources—the greatest transportation system—the greatest industrial plant—the greatest agricultural domain in the world. Here we are the next moment flat-busted—out at the seat of our pants—unemployed—crushed with the mountainous burden of national debt—with no place to go. It is pretty thick for the man on the street—and it is not only thick but it is laughable.

The Buyers Strike

On the floor of the house early in the week a woman arose to pay tribute to the effectiveness of the buyers' strike in holding prices in line. She felt deeply on the matter—spoke feelingly from out of the depths of her big heart. She had words of high praise for the restraint, or better the practice of self-denial by American housewives that had enabled a nation without governmental controls to prevent the price of steak from spattering the ceiling. That was "enlightened self-interest." It seems that in the most intelligent nation in the world, the most literate nation, the nation possessed with the greatest buying power in the world, "enlightened self-interest" requires a strike against the unconscionable greed of the producers. Isn't that a pretty dish in the most literate nation in the world?

Supply and Demand

Some of these apostles of true economic law—some of these high priests of the law of supply and demand (did someone call them economic royalists?) become so feverish when they talk of "enlightened self-interest" that a death struggle ensues between intellect and voice and invariably voice comes out the champion. What is "enlightened self-interest?" Is it arraying consumer against producer? Is it mobilizing producer against consumer? Is it pitting labor against management—or management against labor? Is it matching manufacturer against jobber—jobber against retailer—and retailer against the other two? Is it arranging for a bout between farmer and city dweller—between the fellow who must eat and the fellow who produces the food the other fellow must eat? In all this "enlightened self-interest" what is its meaning? How much greed, avarice, and profiteering can be read into it—how much honesty, nobility, and consideration for one's brother?

In the Lighter Spirit

In the lighter spirit who can resist a chuckle when east, west, north and south from out of the cities, from the lips of many groups, comes the battle cry to beat down prices to levels which the public can afford? In its excessive wage demands does organized labor get a laugh out of that? In its cry for profits does management get a smile out of it? In his own little castle does the farmer of Nebraska enjoy the slogan of do without meat, and milk, and eggs, and butter, until the prices fall in line with Mr. John Q. Citizen's pocketbook? What is "enlightened self-interest?" Liberty and free enterprise carry their responsibilities and much of the time those responsibilities are discharged 100 per cent. There come those occasions, however, when greed gets the upper hand, when profits are so promising, when wage hikes appeal so strongly, when $3 wheat and $2 corn and $25 beef knock at the doors of the farm home and in all of their gaudiness and beauty overpower the senses of the farm family. Organized labor forgets that a buyers' strike means suspension of production until demand catches up with supply, unemployment, and ultimately breadlines. Management forgets that a buyers' strike means idleness in industrial plants and a period of marking time, minus profits since production is the only source from which honest profits come. The farmer forgets that a false voice led him to the mountain top, showed him the green valleys down below, and then pushed him over the cliff. Organized labor forgets that when his demands become unreasonable chief sufferer is he himself and his family. The unorganized millions of white collared workers sense that something has happened but they are short of breath and even shorter of cash. What is this baby—"enlightened self-interest"—which a circle of economic royalists dress in Sunday best and take out on parade? It is greatly to be pitied. It never seems to realize that all the time its proud papa and its prideful mother are showing it to the folks, papa is winking slyly behind its back.

If Not Enlightened

This is the year, the month, the week, and the day of "self-interest"— if not "enlightened." A powerful oil lobby won its battle. It walked off with one of America's richest awards—ultimate possession of America's last remaining large oil reserves. Only Mr. Truman stood between it and its goal. A veto was expected—may put in its appearance before this appears in type—but "enlightened self-interest" of the oil lobby held congress spellbound in its grip to such an extent that the vast oil deposits buried beneath the waters of the American seaboards—particularly the California coast, were earmarked by congressional action for the "enlightened self-interest" of the huge oil companies. There may come a day when Uncle Sam finds it necessary to change his name to old Mother Hubbard.

The industrialist had his—a price formula on the basis of increased unit costs since 1940 regardless of whether he had superior productive capacity, or could make two flowers bloom where only one bloomed before. The jobber had his, the retailer his, the farmer his, and organized labor was making suspicious noises again about getting more of his. "Enlightened self-interest" was on the job with supply and demand, his two seconds, seated in his corner with a towel and smelling salts—the latter probably for the little guy squeezed down in the corner in the front row. He goes by the unfamiliar name of White-Collared Johnny.

Congress has left the American people with the ancient heritage of another fascinating period of American history. If mama and papa and the kids don't like the prices that will be on display for the next 12 months, they all know what they can do. They can leave them alone. It is a philosophy of unique and dubious vintage. There isn't very much glorification to be accorded a nation when the forces of "enlightened self-interest" get so far out of control that the world's "richest" nation must change its doctrine to a dubious doctrine; one that is not the American way except for those brief perious when greed gets the upper hand and the only cure is a war from coast to coast against unreasonable avarice.

It was clear that when the atomic bomb is mixed with water something happens. Just what that something is remains a secret beyond the simplest details. Radio activity 48 hours after the bomb was exploded under water remained so great at Bikini that the test forces were balked in attempts to explore Bikini Bay. And the public will not know fully about these two tests for some time to come—which may never know the full import in a military sense.

Trials in progress for weeks at Nuernberg came to an end with demands for deaths of the nazi war criminals; upheavals took place in Palestine; China's gracious lady of the first republic spoke a grim word of warning; American golfers exhibited their skill, drawing huge galleries; baseball favorites played to capacity crowds; millions tossed dull cares out the window nad vacationed in mountains and by lakes and sea shores. The department of agriculture in Washington made a 10 million bushel mistake in the size of Nebraska's wheat crop and apparently the only living creature who had a definite idea of what it is all about was the little red hen with her cackle.

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—The southeastward advance of the low pressure area which now overlies the northern and central Great Plains States has drawn the hot air which has been over Oklahoma and southern Kansas during the past several days northward over eastern Nebraska, where temperatures have risen considerably since yesterday. Hot weather continues over most of the Great Plains states, with highest readings yesterday afternoon generally in the upper 90s except over the eastern portions of Nebraska and the Dakotas, where the weather was a little cooler. Cool weather persists over the northeastern fourth of the country, and seasonable temperatures prevail elsewhere. Light local showers have occurred over Nebraska during the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 this morning, and light to heavy local showers have occurred in northern Missouri and the south Atlantic and east Gulf States.

Walter Reed Hospital Wing Will Be Used For President

. . . EMERGENCY SUITE FOR TRUMAN FAMILY WILL COST $148,000

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Army and Navy Register, unofficial service publication, said Saturday that one wing of the army's Walter Reed hospital will be remodeled into a suite for emergency use of President Truman and his family.

It said the contract already has been let and calls for a bedroom, living room and reception room for the president's personal accommodation; four additional bedrooms, two sitting rooms, a diet kitchen, a room for guards and a solarium.

It estimated the cost at $148,000.

Special facilities were provided for the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt at the navy's medical center, Bethesda, Md.

Col. Wallace Graham, the president's physician, told reporters he has been working since his appointment to obtain a place where the president could not only have adequate facilities, but privacy and the protection the secret service always demands for a chief executive.

At 62, the president is considered by his physician to have energy and resistance of a man many years younger.

At the same time, Col. Graham said that it was his responsibility to guard that health and that he wanted assurance that adequate facilities are constantly available.

Norfolk Civil War Veteran To Observe 103rd Birthday

. . . Tells Reporter He Still Has "Plenty Of Fight"

NORFOLK, Neb.—(AP)—One hundred three years old Sunday, L. B. Musselman, Norfolk's "grand old man" and the oldest Civil war veteran living in Nebraska, says his health is "first rate."

L. B. Musselman

But he is not "banking on" another birthday after this year. "At my age," he commented," you can't bank on a thing. When my time comes to lie down, I'll be ready."

His mind is just as alert as it was a year ago. He eats more liquid foods, however, and sleeps more. He can't move around the house without the assistance of Mrs. Musselman But he maintains a keen interest in world affairs and enjoys company.

Likes Plenty Of Cake.

Immediately after breakfast the 103-year-old Civil war veteran takes a nap. Then he is served his luncheon, which is usually soup. He likes cake and is served quite a bit of it. After luncheon he takes another nap. He retires at 9:30 p. m., after a glass of milk.

Because of failing eyesight, he has to get his news on the radio.

Proud of his age, he had a Norfolk Daily News reporter feel his muscle to show he still is a "good man." Then he smiled and doubled up his fists and made a few passes at the reporter to show he still has "plenty of fight."

Lives Clean Life.

Never seriously sick in his life, he believes he has lived three years beyond the century mark because he never drank liquor, gave up smonking a long time ago, eats moderately, and sleeps regularly.

"I am proud of my family," he said. "My grandfather—he lived to be 95—was never sick. My folks were never sick. They always took care of themselves. I worked in zero weather and it didn't bother me a bit. When I was one the territory (he travelled for a medicine company) I always knew where I was going to stop when night came."

Recalled Last Day Downtown.

He regrets he can never go down town as he did until three years ago and recalls it was a hot day the last time he was in the business section. "He has never forgotten that day," Mrs. Musselman commented.

The aged war veteran then changed the conversation to Abraham Lincoln.

"I saw Lincoln and heard him speak, when he was canvassing (campaigning). He stood on a balcony and saluted the men when they rode by in a wagon. He stood six foot, four inches. I always am sorry I didn't get to vote for Lincoln. I was too young when he first ran for president, and when he ran the second time we were marching through Alabama."

Seldom Saw Drunk.

Recalling his younger days, Musselman said "the young people sure had a good time, and they behaved better than they do now. You seldom saw a drunk in those days, and the liquor they made was better than it is now. The liquor they made those days was such that a preacher could take a little."

He talked about serving four years in the Union army and how he came out of it "without a scratch." He was with Grant's army when it captured Vicksburg.

The old veteran said he is very happy and praised the "wonderful care my wife takes of me." She has planned a simple quiet birthday observance. Cakes are being baked and some of his friends plan to call on him.

Musselman came to Nebraska in the fall of 1871 and located on a homestead northwest of Lincoln. He later moved to Seward county, his home for four years, and then to Osceola, where he was a farmer and clerk. He came to Norfolk in 1900 as a salesman for the Baker Medicine company.

His first wife died in 1921. In 1927 he married Mrs. Marie Beswick, who has made his late years in life happy. A son and two daughters from his first marriage who are still living are Harry Musselman, 78, Osceola, Mrs. Mae Hereford, 74, Chicago, and Mrs. E. E. Kennard, 76, Norfolk.

Children Unwanted By Parents Having Wonderful Time On Farm

OMAHA—(AP)—Four months after their parents began proceedings to give them away because they "make us nervous," three little tots Saturday appeared happy indeed at the farm home of an elderly couple who want to adopt them.

The children—Tommy, 4; Carolyn Rose, 3, and Stanley, 2—were romping merrily on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. John Yanick when a reporter arrived to visit them.

Although the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Van Horn, voluntarily initiated the proceedings to "give away" their children, the Yunicks cannot formally adopt them until October, when a six-months probation period ends.

Drink Lots Of Milk

The children agreed they love it in the country, are eating lots of ear corn and drinking lots of milk.

Friendly and fiftyish, the Yunicks said they are setting up an endowment fund so the children can go to college.

"The court seems to think that because I only got to fifth grade and my husband never finished high school we won't put the babies through school," said Mrs. Yunick. "But we've both sworn that's one thing we will do."

Garsson's 'Shielders' Are Sought

. . . By Senate Probers

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Senate investigators disclosed plans Saturday for an inquiry into whether high officers of the chemical warfare service sought to shield from danger a young army captain who was the son of Murray Garsson, munitions company official.

The staff of the senate war investigating committee was asked to undertake the inquiry by Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa), a member.

Kilgore based his request on a published statement by Joseph Garsson, formerly a captain in the chemical warfare service, that his commanding officer had instructions to keep him out of dangerous service.

Kilgore told Chief Counsel George Meader of the committee to find out from young Garsson "who it was who said Garsson was to be taken care of."

"Then," the senator declared, "we can call in those gentlemen and find out who gave them their orders."

Kilgore said he believed young Garsson should be called to the witness stand "or at least interviewed.

Murray Garsson was one of the promoters of the midwest munitions combine to which the name of Rep. May (D-Ky), chairman of the house military committee has been linked by public testimony.

Scottsbluff Takes Over Army Air Base

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—(AP)—At one minute after midnight Friday the Scottsbluff army air base became the Scottsbluff municipal airport.

The city took over control of the airport under terms of a license granted Thursday night by the U. S. army corps of engineers. The license authorized the city to use, maintain and operate the flight landing strips and airport facilities.

Considerable airport equipment and machinery is being turned over to the city under the license. The stipulations require, however, that the equipment be used only for airport work and not be taken off the compound.

The government has retained the right to commandeer the airport and base at any time in event of emergency. B. E. Yoder of divisonal headquarters at Omaha represented the engineers at the formal transfer. He was assisted by S. E. Smith, resident engineer.

Someone To Believe In

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 8.

It was easy singing with the orchestra after Greer got into its rhythm. Buzzy Barton was a cheerful youngster who had always admired Greer and considered himself extremely lucky to have her singing with his outfit.

"Who would ever have thought that night you sang here that you'd take it on as a permanent job!" he began, then seeing the shadow, hurt look in her eyes, he had remembered that the night of which he spoke had been one of tragedy for Greer.

"Forgive se," he cried in quick contrition. "I'm a blundering fool! But I'd like to be your friend."

And so he was, trying in every way to be helpful and kind. Showing her little tricks of putting a song over, helping her over strange, rough spots.

The other men in the orchestra followed suit, but not so the fiery little dancer who was billed as "Morica, the Mexican Whirlwind!" From the first the small, dark, flashing-eyed, agile girl had resented and hated Greer. "She thinks she's doing us a favor by mingling with us!" she raged. "Who does she think she is—?"

Rocky had silenced Morica sharply, thereby increasing her dislike of Greer. For Morica wanted everybody to believe that Rocky Alverson was her own private property. She entirely forgot the accent she affected in the raging torrent of words she poured out to Nicholas at the cigar counter, who seemed to be her special confidant.

Buzzy laughed at her outburst and explained to the worried Greer, "Don't let Morica get you down. She's phoney all the way through. The little hell-cat never saw Mexico. Rocky brought her down from the slums of Chicago where he knew her as a kid! He remembered how she used to pretend she was a Spanish senorita and dance in the street—!"

But somehow Greer sensed that there was nothing phoney about Morica's love for Rocky!

In the meantime she was moving from her Aunt Harriet's to a small kitchenette apartment of her own. Both Harriet and Isobel tried to dissuade her from going, saying that there was plenty of room in their home and that they enjoyed her company. Indeed it was Isobel's small distressed face that took a little of the joy from what really was an exciting adventure. To be sure the room she had was only a third-floor back on a rather shabby street; the kitchenette was hardly more than a well-stocked cubicle, the tiny bath had no outside window. But the thought that it was all her own, paid for by money she earned herself, was a thrill she had never experienced before. It was fun putting out her own things—the beloved familiar photographs, the treasured lamps and vases; adding warmth and color to the drab room with bright chintzes, draping the studio couch with the handsome woven afghan that was Harriet's contribution. Isobel helped her get straightened up and when she had stocked her small shelves with staples and kindled a bright fire in the little grate, she felt warmed and cheered and happier than she had been in weeks.

Greer saw Isobel off, the girl's face reproaching her for not having asked her to dinner. But somehow Greer wanted this first evening in her new home to herself, to adjust herself to her surroundings. A close bond of affection had developed between the cousins and Greer salved her conscience by inviting Isobel to come to her whenever she felt the least bit lonely.

She opened a card table before the crackling fire—almost superfluous as the season advanced, but somehow increasing the pleasure she felt—covered the table with a gay cloth, prepared a salad, a sandwich and a cup of tea—and dined in solitary state, feeling secure and independent and eminently self-satisfied at the moment.

She sat there until late thinking of the strange way fate has of changing our lives for us without warning. It was odd how much at home she felt in this room, surrounded by treasures from her girlhood, and much close to her father and mother than had been possible since the big house had become a strange abode of fear and distrust.

The week of her training passed quickly enough. Jeff Mansfield called her one night and suggested a movie. Afterward they drank sodas at the corner drug store and Jeff kept up a running chatter of his famous nonsense. But underneath she sensed his concern for her welfare, so that to prove to him she was quite all right she invited him up to to the apartment. He looked around, sighed and sank into a big chintz-covered chair.

"It's pretty swell all right," he admitted, "lacking only the presence of a man to make it perfect. And here before you, my darling Greer, you see an eager, hopeful candidate." He was on his feet beside her, his hands on her arms. "I don't like this business of your singing for Rocky Alverson a little bit, Greer! I think it is stupid and senseless—and you know it's unnecessary. You turned me down once because you expected to marry Arnie Hewitt. I'm not asking you why the marriage hasn't come off, but I think I'm smart enough to guess the reason!" She flushed and he went on quickly, "Arnie was always a fool of the deepest dye. I love you, Greer—marry me and let me take care of you!"

Greer sighed and shook her head wearily.

"Oh, Jeff—how can I explain—?"

"Don't try. Just think it over. Meantime—you won't mind my dropping around, will you?"

"I'd miss you terribly if you didn't Jeff."

Mills Forced To Turn Down Wheat Loads

Bins Filled To Capacity

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb.—(AP)—Some Scotts Bluff county elevators have issued blanket "no more wheat requests" after reporting that all available storage space was used up.

Caught between a boxcar shortage and the heaviest wheat harvest in years, mill operators tried vainly to keep up with the flow of grain during the first two weeks of the harvest.

Need Rail Cars.

Earl I. Mead, manager of the Mead Milling Co., here, hung out a "no more wheat" sign late Friday, announcing that his firm could not handle more wheat until railroad cars are received.

Officials at the Jirdon-Warden mill in Gering, said Friday night's shipments would load their bins to capacity. "We're already full and from now on we'll accept only as much as we can load into railroad cars—if and when we get them," they said.

Mills in Lyman and Morrill were still taking wheat but operators said they were "disgusted with the car situation" because it is forcing them to "soft-pedal the purchase and handling of the best uniform quality wheat we've had in many seasons."

High Yields

Yields of between 35 and 50 bushels per acre were still being reported as the harvest passed the half-way mark. In almost every case, the wheat was testing No. 1 dark hard and few smutty patches were found.

High yields of barley were also reported in irrigated sections of the country. One mill operator reported a yield of 72 bushels per acre, another said some farmers were expecting yields ranging as high as 85 bushels in some of their irrigated acres.

Five Escapees Are Captured

. . . In Lincoln County

NORTH PLATTE, Neb.—(AP)—Lincoln county officials have apprehended all but one of six boys who escaped from the state boys training school at Kearney during the week, Sheriff O. L. Discoe announced.

Four who escaped Thursday afternoon were captured 10 miles north of Tryon Friday by McPherson county sheriff officers. They are Gilbert Keith Edwards, 15, of Arizona; Charles Henry Joiner, 16, Oklahoma City; Dale Fahrenbruck, 16, and Joe Van Patten, 17.

Clarence Thomas, 16, Lansing, Mich., who escaped Wednesday with George Landreph, 15, of Ogallala, was still at large, but he has been sighted near the Platte river and Discoe said he believed hunger and discomfort from insect bites would force him to reveal himself soon. Landreph was taken by a state highway patrolman in a Maxwell restaurant Thursday night.

Forecast Record Corn Yield For Lancaster Farms

. . . '40 Bushels Acre'

A record corn yield was forecast for Lancaster county Saturday if present moisture conditions exist throughout July and part of August, Cecil Jacobsen, County AAA Chairman, stated Saturday.

Both Jacobsen and County Agent V. H. Petersen reported that regardless of which way a person would drive from Lincoln that the corn crop looked like one of the best in years.

Petersen stated Saturday that the corn had made a lot of progress during the passing week with many fields shooting ears. He reported that the corn was earlier and taller than last year and said he had noted a number of stalks with two or three ears.

Farmers in the county, according to Petersen had planted in the neighborhood of 191,100 acres of corn this year, approximately the same as in 1945. Last year's corn yield was set at between 32 and 33 bushels per acre.

The possibility of 40 bushel corn was expressed by Jacobsen who said the corn in the county during July had never looked finer. He said, however, more rain would be needed to make the crop a bumper one.

Fremont Woman Asks $92,627 In Damage Suits

FREMONT, Neb.—(AP)—Two damage suits totaling $92,627.50 have been filed in Dodge county district court against the Pacific Gamble Robinson company and Lyle Allen of Lincoln by Mrs. Jean Sandage of Fremont, as the result of a car-truck collision on May 6.

Mrs. Sandage's husband, Robert, a discharged navy veteran, was killed in the accident, which occurred at the junction of U. S. highways 77 and 30 about 14 miles south of Fremont.

One suit, filed as administratrix of her husband's estate, asks judgment of $76,283.50 for damages suffered by herself as a widow and by their infant son. The other, filed as an individual, asks $15,344 damages for injuries and alleged permanent disfigurement.

—Reorganization—
Congress' Plan Up To President
. . . And Next Session

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congress looked with confidence Saturday for President Truman's approval of a sweeping legislative reorganization and pay boost plan but less surely on how the succeeding congress will accept it.

The plan reduces the number of house committees from 48 to 19 and the numbers of senate committees from 33 to 15. The 80th congress, when it gathers next January, may decide more are needed.

Committee chairmanships are juicy political plums and — since each house retains a right to establish whatever committees it chooses—either branch of the new congress could by its own action broaden the abbreviated committee structure contained in the reorganization plan.

One of the committee consolidations merges the military and naval committees of each chamber into single committees for the armed forces. But most of the committees abolished always have been relatively inactive.

Provides Pay Boost.

Senate concurrence by voice vote Friday in house amendments sent the legislation to the White House. Mr. Truman, onetime senator, had suggested increasing pay rates for congress members, and his approval of the whole reorganization idea was viewed as certain.

The measure provides a salary boost from $10,000 to $12,500 a year—plus a $2,500 expense allowance which is tax-free and requires no accounting on how it is spent. In addition, members could get pensions, by making contributions under the existing retirement system for federal employes.

Most of the reorganization provisions, including the committee-lopping feature and the pay raise don't become effective until Jan. 2, when the new congress convenes.

Frisco Breaks July Heat Record With 75 Degrees

SAN FRANCISCO —(INS)— This is an unusual July in San Francisco as far as the weather is concerned.

Friday a 56-year-old heat record was broken, and Thursday a 55-year-old rainfall record was broken.

The thermometer climbed to 75 degrees Friday, the highest on a July 26 since 1890. The weather bureau said it was due to lack of sea breezes and a high pressure area in the interior valleys.

Thursday's rainfall of .06 of an inch was the heaviest ever recorded for any day in July since 1891.

Army Concludes Rocket Trip To Moon Possible

WASHINGTON—(INS)— The army air forces revealed Saturday that it has concluded that rocket contact can be made with the moon.

Disclosure that the AAF has performed calculations for an out-of-this-world flight was made by an officer with access to experts' findings on the project. He said:

"The army air forces has been studying the whole problem of reaching the moon and has been making computations. It has arrived at the conclusion that physical contact can be made with the moon."

The rocket would travel 35,700 feet per second to span the 240,000 miles to the moon, going relatively slow — about a mile per second—until thin atmosphere is reached. Otherwise it would burn up.

The "flying stovepipe," claimed by both the army and navy, has the announced speed of four miles per second. Scientists working on the ram jet revealed that efforts are being made to increase its speed.

Missiles tested by the army at White Sand, N. M., speed a mile per second. This velocity would have to be increased seven times to reach the moon.

USNR Enlistments Now Being Accepted

The local navy recruiting station announced Friday that enlistments in the inactive division of the U. S. naval reserve are now being accepted at their office on the fourth floor of the post-office building.

Lt. F. W. Bloomer has been assigned to the local office to accept applications from all ex-navy men in the Lincoln area. He will be in charge of organizing the local reserve corps.

Before being ordered to active duty, Lt. Bloomer was attending the University of Nebraska. Previous to that, he served aboard the Seaplane tender U.S.S. Barnegat and the auxiliary oiler, the U.S.S. Sea Konk.

Corn Prices Drop Lower

CHICAGO—(AP)—

Corn futures worked lower today as rains were forecast for previously dry areas of the mid-west and heavy purchases of 1946 crop grain for delivery later in the year were reported by cash dealers. Purchases on a to-arrive basis were placed at about 235,000 bushels.

Selling of corn had some influence on oats, but the latter grain displayed more resistance to the downward trend.

Corn finished 2½ to 3¼c lower, January $1.37¾, oats were ¼c lower to 1c higher, August 74¾c, and barley was 2½ to 3c lower, November $1.23½.

Barron Holds Lead

ELLSWORTH VINES IN SECOND PLACE IN TAM O'SHANTER; BUD SCORES 150

BY SKIPPER PATRICK.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., veteran of the links for 20 years, was the man to beat in the $50,875 All-American golf tournament as the start of third round play today caught most of the top-light stars straggling far off the pace.

E. Vines

Barron, one of the few professionals who actually teaches golf at the course he represents, banged around in one-under par 71 yesterday for a 36 hole total of 139, five strokes under standard figures for that distance.

Most of the estimated 32,000 fans—an all-time record for the Tam O'Shanter's course—were puzzled at the showing in the rich golf circus of such famous "name" players as Byron Nelson, Lloyd Mangrum, Ben Hogan, Sammy Snead and Jug McSpaden and many others.

Bud Williamson of Lincoln Country club pro, scored a 150 for the first 36 holes of the tournament. He carded a 75 for each 18-hole round.

BYRON TEACHES LEADER.

Adding to the confusion of the throng were such developments as Professor Barron's explanation that he was shooting better golf because of "lessons" he has been taking from Byron Nelson.

"I've been doing all my practicing with Nelson lately and he has completely changed my swing," said Barron, former western open champ. "Where I used to chop I'm now swinging long and loose. The post-graduate work is paying dividends."

Ellsworth Vines of Chicago, who is best known as a former champion tennis star, was in second place, one stroke away at 140. He got a 69 in his second round.

Nelson, who has won four of five previous All-American opens, was in a tie with 15 others for 22nd place. His second round mark was par 72, giving him a 36 hole total of 146.

OWN COURSE TOUGH.

U. S. Open champion Lloyd Mangrum, the Los Angeles lad now serving as pro at Tam O'Shanter, failed to master his own course and was out of the class of 100 who qualified for the final 36 holes.

Three unknowns in the big money circuit, Chick Harbert of Detroit; Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Dick Metz of Arkansas City, Kas., were grouped at 142. Only seven others were able to better or equal par 144 for the first two rounds.

Earl Stewart of Dallas, Tex., former N.C.A.A. titlist, started today's work with the leading amateur's mark of 146. Favorite Frank Stranahan of Toledo; Harold Brink, Grand Rapids, Mich., George Hamer, Columbus, Ga., and Dick McCreary, jr., of Indianapolis, were next grouped at 149's.

The women's open division—nearly half a round behind schedule after darkness caught most of them still on the course for the second straight day—was led by defending champion Patty Berg of Minneapolis, at 181, five over par for the ladies. Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Denver, the first round leader, and 21 others were to continue their second rounds today.

Fights Last Night

CHICAGO—Bob Foxworth, 175½, East St. Louis, outpointed Jack Hill, 166¼, Bloomington, Ill., eight rounds.

BROOKLYN—Steve Belloise, 159, New York, knocked out Indian Gomez, 160, Havana, three rounds.

LONG BEACH, N. Y.—Henry Cooper, 206½, Brooklyn, T. K. O. Oscar Goode, 179½, Newark, five rounds.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Baby Gonzales, 130½, Mexico City, and Eddie Hudson, 131½, Los Angeles, drew, 10 rounds.

---SPORTS--- Roundup

By SID FEDER

(Pinch-hitting for Hugh Fullerton. Jr.)

NEW YORK, July 27—(AP)—The talk still goes 'round and 'round that the real reason Sam Breadon made his late unlamented trip to Mexico was to try to peddle the Cardinals to the Pasquel brothers . . . They said no . . . They did offer, though, to loan Max Lanier to Sam for a month or so, to pitch the Cardinals out in front in the National league . . . Tulsa U folks and peeved about the Buffalo club in the All-America football conference signing up Chubby Grigg, their classy 300-pound guard, although he still had two more years of college to go.

MOVIETOWN tub-thumpers tip you William Bendix, the film flatbusher, will work out with the Dodgers before today's doubleheader with the Pirates . . . which, for no reason at all, reminds you of the story about the horse who showed up at Ebbets Field one afternoon a couple of years ago, said he could do anything and asked Lippy Durocher for a tryout . . . He made good, too, clouting a couple out of the park, making a double play at second, whiffing Dixie Walker and Pete Reiser in a short pitching trick . . ' Then Durocher told him to show his stuff running the bases . . . "Run," the amazed horse whinnied back. "If I could run, I'd be in the third at Belmont this afternoon."

HARRY MENDEL has the riders and the rubber for tires now and will put on a six-day bike race in New York again as soon as he can get the lumber for a track . . . Ray Flaherty is taking a squad of 57 to the New York pro football Yankees' training camp at Spokane . . . and the Los Angeles Rams will have 56 on their roster . . . Word from Mexico is that the talk about a peace pact between the Mexican league and organized baseball here is so much hot tamale, sliced very thin.

Discard Whips Vaunted Bums

. . . FRITZ OSTERMUELLER

BY JOE REICHLER

REGARDED as washed up when he was waived out of the American league after failing to win a single game in 1941 and fast approaching his 40th birthday, lefty Fritz Ostermueller is proving to be one of the finest pitchers in the National league this season.

Toiling for the last place Pittsburgh Pirates, the ever-smiling Dutchman has managed to shape up an 8-6 won and lost record. That tells only part of the story. Of Osty's half dozen defeats, four came by one run and twice his mates failed to score a single run for him.

The Quincy, Ill., veteran, now in his 13th year under the big top, achieved his first shut-out victory of the campaign last night. The triumph was doubly sweet to him as it came over the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers who shunted him to the minors two years ago.

ALL SQUARE NOW.

Fritz halted the Dodgers with seven hits in fashioning a 5-0 victory which atoned for his 3-0 loss to the Flatbush flock a week ago in Pittsburgh. The loss cut the Dodgers' first place lead over the idle St. Louis Cardinals to one game.

The third place Chicago Cubs failed to take advantage of Brooklyn's lapse by losing to the Philadelphia Phillies 2-1 when First Baseman Frank McCormick singled with two out in the sixth inning to drive in both Philly runs.

The Boston Red Sox retained their 11 game lead over the New York Yankees in the American league by dumping the St. Louis Browns 8-5 as the Yankees were beating the Chicago White Sox, 6-2.

TRUCK NIPS A's.

Virgil (Fire) Trucks spotted the Philadelphia Athletics three runs in the first inning and then proceeded to pitch and bat the Detroit Tigers to a 4-3 win.

League leading batter Jim Verdon, drove in two runs with his sixth home run and scored the winning run in the ninth inning as the Washington Senators shaded the Cleveland Indians, 5-4.

In the National league's only day contest, the New York Giants defeated the Cincinnati Reds 3-2 when Billy Rigney climaxed a two-run ninth inning rally with a single that brought in Buddy Blattner from second with the deciding run.

The Boston Braves joined the Cards in a day off.

Falkenburg New Jinx

. . . National Tennis

SEABRIGHT, N. J.—(INS)—Tennis fans flocked to Seabright today to watch the newest sensation of the courts—Bob Falkenburg, of Hollywood, Calif.

Falkenburg displaying the most devastating service since the days of Ellsworth Vines, turned in one of the most stunning upsets of the season Friday by defeating Bill Talbert of Wilmington, Del., America's second-ranking player, in the semi-finals of the men's singles. The score was 5-7, 8-6, 6-4.

Today Falkenburg clashed with Gardnar Mulloy, of Miami, in a semi-final match. Mulloy gained his bracket by eliminating Sam Match of Los Angeles. In the other semi-final, Jack Kramer of Montebello, Calif., met Alejo Russell, of Argentina.

Colonels Top Association

(By the Associated Press)

While Indianapolis and St. Paul have been trying to pry themselves out of a slump, Louisville's Colonels have raced to within 1½ games of staking claim on the American Association leadership.

The Colonels edged Kansas City, 3-1, last night by converting three bases on balls into three runs in the second inning. Meanwhile, league-leading Indianapolis lost its second straight decision to Milwaukee, 3-1, and last place Columbus made a clean sweep of a two-game series from the faltering St. Paul Saints now lodged in third place, 4½ games out of the lead. The Red Birds dumped St. Paul, 4-3.

Toledo won its fifth straight game by beating Minneapolis, 6-2.

. . . Public Links

DENVER, July 27—(AP)—All the makings for a story-book finish of the 1946 national public links golf tournament were on hand today as a youthful "unknown" and a golf wise veteran clashed in the finals of the annual classic.

Louis Stafford of Portland, Ore., 22, making his first appearance in the event, paired off with Smiley Quick, Los Angeles electrical contractor, for the Public Links crown.

Stafford took Robert (Pete) Doll,, 4 and 3 in their semifinal match, while Quick knocked off Robert Gajda, Detroit, Mich., 7 and 5.

Two top exhibition games are on the slate at Muny tonight. The strong Fuchs Machinery team of Omaha will meet the Lincoln Dr. Peppers at 9:00 and the Union Pacific Streamliner girls of Omaha is slated to meet the Amos girls of Lincoln at 7:45 p. m.
